

Cabinet Quits In France But Ramadier Holds On As Premier

Paris, Oct. 22 (AP)—The members of France's cabinet handed their resignations today to Socialist Premier Paul Ramadier, but the premier himself did not resign.

In the midst of what the premier called France's grave economic situation, his office announced that Ramadier himself was firmly intent upon going ahead with the formation of a new government. It was not certain, however, that Ramadier would be successful.

The announcement came with startling suddenness, just three days after Gen. Charles De Gaulle's smashing success in France's municipal elections. Some observers said the cabinet's unanimous decision to step down would facilitate the return to power of the liberation leader through his new party, the Rally of the French People.

"Complex Problems"

The cabinet reached its decision only a few hours after Ramadier had summoned the National Assembly back into an emergency session for next Tuesday. Ramadier was expected to explain the reasons for the resignation at a news conference later in the day.

The Assembly was not due to end its summer vacation until November 13.

A communique issued after a cabinet meeting this morning said that because of the "complexity and gravity of the problems it is necessary to inform the Parliament."

Ramadier and Minister of National Economy Andre Philip, the communique said, spoke of rising prices, the General Confederation of Labor's demand for a 57 per cent minimum monthly wage hike and "all other problems caused by the country's economic and social situation."

Following the program were roll call, games and refreshments. The birthday cake was green and white. Girl Scout colors, lighted with a green candle.

LOCAL BATTLE "ON THE AIR" TUESDAY NIGHT

The events of the afternoon of the third day of the battle of Gettysburg were "re-fought" on the radio between 10:30 and 11 p. m. Tuesday night in a dramatization of Pickett's charge and the events just preceding it, with CBS microphones "there" to bring, in imagination, the high spots of the conflict.

"CBS asks you to imagine our microphone is there," Don Hollenbeck, CBS announcer said, from Meade's headquarters. An analysis of the preceding day's fighting was given by Major George Fielding Elliot, with a prediction that the main fight on July 3, 1863, would not be on Round Top or the Union right, but in the center of the line.

Interview John Burns
Announcer John Daley had his microphone at the spot now known as "The Bloody Angle" and in imagination described the Confederate artillery as it was brought from the woods opposite, and the opening of the cannonade which preceded the charge.

Private John Burns, the Gettysburg citizen who took part in the fighting, was "interviewed" and the announcer related how Burns had been wounded three times, in each arm and a leg, but still continued to fight.

"They took my cow. They ain't got no right to take my cow," Burns' radio counterpart declared. An 18-year-old private from Illinois and a Confederate prisoner from Mississippi were also interviewed, the latter confident of a southern victory.

Announcer Ken Roberts was located far to the right of the line and reported over his microphone the repulse of the Confederate cavalry, "presumably" in charge of "Jeb" Stuart, in an attack at the rear of the Union center.

Describes Artillery Duel
Announcer Jack Beck was on Round Top and described the artillery duel as "The greatest I have ever seen in this war," and then "There is something going on, the Confederate infantry has come out of the woods."

Pickett's charge was described as "an ocean of men on parade" as "Lee's proudest and finest" advanced in massed ranks toward the Emmitsburg road, crossed it and met the withering Union artillery and infantry fire. Rebel yells resounded over the radio; Daley's microphone went "out" in the intense fighting as Union and Confederate met hand-to-hand at the wall and the description was taken up by Beck on Round Top and Hollenbeck at Meade's headquarters.

The broadcast closed with Daley's words: "The Gray line is retreating" and General Meade's "The battle is ours," amid Yankee cheers.

Plans for next summer's camping program at the South Mountain Memorial camp, near Dillsburg, and plans for development of the camp, which is owned by the council, were discussed.

Push Work On New Bridge Over Marsh Creek On Fairfield Road

Workmen employed by Hempt Brothers, Camp Hill contractors who are replacing the historic stone arch bridge over Marsh creek on the Fairfield road, have completed three of the four abutments of the new span; and are working on the fourth while awaiting steel for the structure as bulldozers and other equipment are going ahead with the grading on both sides of the bridge.

The old bridge is still in use by the contractors, but is not open to the public. The area surrounding the bridge bears little resemblance to the scenic beauty of the spot; before work was started several weeks ago. The grove of trees on the south side of the bridge has been uprooted and removed and the southwest abutment stands where many Gettysburg residents formerly drove their cars into the creek to wash them.

Here And There News Collected At Random

Gettysburg is described as "an interesting place, a hallowed place, an inspiring place. See it if you can," by Gilbert Love in a recent article in the Pittsburgh Press. His article follows in full:

Eighty-four years ago last summer, the Confederate Army of Northern Virginia began an invasion of the North. Seventy-five thousand strong, it moved up the Shenandoah and Cumberland valleys, hoping to capture Harrisburg and threaten Washington and Baltimore from the rear.

The Union Army of the Potomac, about 84,000 men, learned of the Confederate movement. It marched up to the other side of the Blue Ridge, paralleling the Confederate advance. More-or-less by accident, the two forces met at the town of Gettysburg, Pa., and fought one of the greatest battles of all time.

For three days, men in blue and gray fought and maneuvered in the town and the countryside for miles around. When the battle was over, both armies had lost about 45,000 men—killed, wounded, missing. It ended the Confederacy's chances of victory, although the war went on for two more years.

Today the battleground is a vast military park. The peaceful Pennsylvania countryside, is studded with bronze plaques telling of desperate fights for a hill, a valley, a railroad cut. Fine monuments honor the troops from many states who fought here.

Official guides will take you around the battlefield, explaining the action from the clash of the town on the morning of July 1 to Pickett's bloody charge on the afternoon of the third day. Or, with the aid of a map, you can tour the battleground yourself.

You'll see places you vaguely remember from your history (Please Turn to Page 7)

J. SNEAD CLIFT IS TRANSFERRED

J. Snead Clift, Boy Scout field executive in this section since January 1, 1946, will leave November 1 to take a similar post at Portsmouth, Va., scout officials announced today.

Clift came here after his separation from the service, in which he was a lieutenant commander with the navy, serving four years with that branch of the armed forces. Prior to the war he had been a field executive at Richmond, Va.

The first field executive ever to live in Gettysburg and maintain his office here, Clift served the entire county and part of York county, having three districts, Black Walnut, Conewago and Round Top, under his jurisdiction.

In his new post Clift will have charge of all troops in a city of 70,000. He and his family plan to move there as soon after November 1 as housing accommodations can be secured.

During his service here county scouting has grown and of the troops he assisted in reorganization. McSherry's own Catholic troop recently won the Bishop's award as the best troop in the Harrisburg diocese.

Drought Calls Off County Nimrods' Trip

Four Fairfield hunters found out the hard way over the weekend that one to drought in the New England states and New York all hunting there has been cancelled until at least two days of rain has fallen.

The P. M. Kenneth Sites, Stalker Shooter, Ray Wilkes, Jr., and Horst Stael left Saturday morning for Maine where they hoped to be present for the opening of the deer season scheduled for Tuesday.

Near New Haven, Conn., they pulled into a service station and the attendant there noticed their guns and hunting clothes, asked where they planned to hunt. When they said "Maine" he advised them of the situation.

The drought in the New England states is the worst in 35 years. The local hunters were told and a large number of fire-hate hunters started in wooded areas in that section.

C. PAUL CESSNA IS SPEAKER FOR FAIRFIELD LIONS

"Some people say they do not have time to take part in community activities—but they do have time, an entire lifetime in which to do their share for the community in which they live," C. Paul Cessna, alumni secretary of Gettysburg college, told the Fairfield Lions club Tuesday evening at a dinner meeting at the Shelter house here.

Speaking on "Lionism," Cessna outlined the work of service clubs in providing manpower, ideas and financial aid in making their own community a better place in which to live. Mr. Cessna is a former district governor of Lions clubs.

"One really does not serve others, one serves himself in doing things for his home town," the speaker added. During his talk he described the growth of the Lions club and the services that it has and can render to the community.

Observe "Friends' Night"

Robert Kleppinger, president of the Fairfield club, presided at the "Friends' Night" dinner meeting at which 11 members of the Gettysburg club were also present. Forty-four members and guests were present from Fairfield.

Members of the club brought antique furniture, dough trays and small benches which they refinished. They will continue this project at the next meeting, to be held November 4, at the home of Mrs. Joseph B. Bollinger, Cross Keys-Hanover road.

The Hampton group met Tuesday night at the home of Mrs. Julius Schummel, leader, to plan the year's program. They decided to hold meetings on the first and third Wednesday nights of each month.

The next meeting will be held November 5, at 7:30 p. m., at the home of Mrs. Mary Chronister, where members will exchange new apron patterns and do fabric painting.

Enola Trucker Hurt In N.O. Accident

H. F. Kline, Enola, was injured when the light truck he was operating was struck in the New Oxford area by a tractor on Monday.

The truck, which was a 1946 model, was driven by Enola Kline, who was driving east on the Lincoln highway and failed to negotiate the curve in the New Oxford square. The truck knocked over a guard post, tearing a chain and struck and broke off a light pole. Damage to the truck was estimated by Chief of Police Earl L. McNale, New Oxford, at $80.

The accident was the second to occur in the New Oxford square within two days.

EXPECT $200 IN PARADE PRIZES FOR HALLOWEEN

Approximately $200 in prizes will be awarded here Thursday night, October 30, at the annual Halloween parade, the Halloween committee of Gettysburg organizations decided Tuesday evening at a meeting in the Elks' home.

Lawrence M. Sheads was selected as chairman for the committee and George Fissel was named as treasurer. Paul E. Whitmoyer, director of recreation for Gettysburg, was appointed as solicitor in a drive for funds toward the prizes.

Estimated donations from various organizations will total about $200 and if additional amounts can be received from organizations and individuals larger prizes will be granted and possibly some form of entertainment in keeping with the Halloween period can be held following the parade, the committee decided.

Parade At 7:30 P.M.

Those who wish to send a donation to the committee were asked to fill out checks to "Halloween committee, George Fissel, treasurer," and send the amounts to Paul Whitmoyer, Gettysburg Recreation office, Box 31, Gettysburg. Because of the short time remaining until Halloween, no general person-to-person solicitation can be made. However as many prizes as possible will be seen, the committee reported.

The parade will start at 7:30 o'clock, probably from the Meade school. Members of the committee may meet today with Chief of Police Robert C. Harpster and Burgess C. A. Heiges to complete plans for the route of the parade.

Monday, November 3, was selected as the rain date provided inclement weather prohibits the affair next Thursday night.

Expect Two Bands

Prizes will be given for such things as the most unusual costumes, most beautiful costume, and funniest costume, with two divisions, adult and children, for each. Other prizes will go to the largest family in a conformance, largest organization, oldest car, best decorated conformance, funniest decorated float, most unusually costumed organization. A number of judges' prizes will also be set up to permit judges to give prizes for outstanding costumes and the like not under the general classification for prizes.

The exact amount for each prize will be announced following a meeting next Tuesday evening at 7:30 o'clock at the Elks after the amount of donations has been determined.

Two bands have so far promised to take part—the Blue and Gray of Gettysburg and the Biglerville high school band. The Gettysburg high school band and the Gettysburg college bands are to be asked to participate. William I. Shields, representing the Blue and Gray at Tuesday's session, said the members of that band would dress in appropriate costume for the parade, rather than in uniform.

The student council of Gettysburg college and the heads of the various organizations participating in sponsorship of the parade will be asked to act as judges, the committee decided. Present plans call for the judges, after first reviewing the parade, to pass through the parade and distribute numbered slips to the prize winners as the parade progressed. When the parade again reaches the reviewing stand those contestants who receive slips will drop out of the parade and will be given their prize money. They will then be introduced from the stand as winners.

Cabinet Quits In France But Ramadier Holds On As Premier

Paris, Oct. 22 (AP)—The members of France's cabinet handed their resignations today to Socialist Premier Paul Ramadier, but the premier himself did not resign.

In the midst of what the premier called France's grave economic situation, his office announced that Ramadier himself was firmly intent upon going ahead with the formation of a new government. It was not certain, however, that Ramadier would be successful.

The announcement came with startling suddenness, just three days after Gen. Charles DeGaulle's smashing success in France's municipal elections. Some observers said the cabinet's unanimous decision to step down would facilitate the return to power of the liberation leader through his new party, the Rally of the French People.

"Complex Problems"

The cabinet reached its decision only a few hours after Ramadier had summoned the National Assembly back into an emergency session set for next Tuesday. Ramadier was expected to explain the reasons for the resignation at a news conference later in the day.

The Assembly was not due to end its summer vacation until November 13.

A communique issued after a cabinet meeting this morning said that because of the "complexity and gravity of the problems it is necessary to inform the Parliament."

Ramadier and Minister of National Economy Andre Philip, the communique said, spoke of rising prices, the General Confederation of Labor's demand for a 57 per cent minimum monthly wage hike and "all other problems caused by the country's economic and social situation."

The anniversary program, in charge of Lorraine Snyder, follows: Singing of the Hiking Song by those who were Brownie Scouts for one year; poem, "Sticking," by Faye Fissel; poem, "October," by Audrey Ellen Brumback; song by the entire troop, "All Night, all Day"; playlet, "One Year Old." The characters were Suzanne Long; Susan Baumgardner and Joanne Pringle; poem, "Little Red Leaves" by Anna Mae Sell; poem, "A Busy Bee," by Geraldine Roberts; songs, "How Old are We?" and "Happy Birthday" by the troop.

Following the program were roll call, games and refreshments. The birthday cake was green and white. Girl Scout colors, lighted with a green candle.

Plan Halloween Party

The troop committee: Mrs. Carl H. Baumgardner, Mrs. Donald Lemmon, Mrs. Long and Mrs. Walter Crouse and Mrs. Kerchner, leader, and Mrs. Ralph Reaver and Mrs. Lloyd Crouse, assistant leaders were guests.

The meeting next week will be a Halloween party and it will be held Monday night at 6:30 o'clock at the Fire Hall instead of Tuesday afternoon. The refreshment committee for this party will meet Friday evening at 7 o'clock at the home of Mrs. A. C. Richards, Jr., South Queen street.

LOCAL BATTLE "ON THE AIR" TUESDAY NIGHT

The events of the afternoon of the third day of the battle of Gettysburg were "re-fought" on the radio between 10:30 and 11 p. m. Tuesday night in a dramatization of Pickett's charge and the events just preceding it, with CBS microphones "there" to bring, in imagination, the high spots of the conflict.

"CBS asks you to imagine our microphone is there," Don Hollenback, CBS announcer said, from Meade's headquarters. An analysis of the preceding day's fighting was given by Major George Fielding Elliot, with a prediction that the main fight on July 3, 1863, would not be on Round Top or the Union right, but in the center of the line.

Interview John Burns

Announcer John Daley had his microphone at the spot now known as "The Bloody Angle" and in imagination described the Confederate artillery as it was brought from the woods opposite, and the opening of the cannonade which preceded the charge.

Private John Burns, the Gettysburg citizen who took part in the fighting, was "interviewed" and the announcer related how Burns had been wounded three times, in each arm and a leg, but still continued to fight.

"They took my cow. They ain't got no right to take my cow," Burns' radio counterpart declared. A 19-year-old private from Illinois and a Confederate prisoner from Mississippi were also interviewed, the latter confidant of a southern victory.

Announcer Ken Roberts was located far to the right of the line and reported over his microphone the repulse of the Confederate cavalry, "presumably" in charge of "Jeb" Stuart, in an attack at the rear of the Union center.

Describes Artillery Duel

Announcer Jack Beck was on Round Top and described the artillery duel as "The greatest I have ever seen in this war," and then "There is something going on, the Confederate infantry has come out of the woods."

Pickett's charge was described as "an ocean of men on parade" as "Lee's proudest and finest" advanced in massed ranks toward the Emmitsburg road, crossed it and met the withering Union artillery and infantry fire. Rebel yells resounded over the radio; Daley's microphone went "out" in the intense fighting as Union and Confederate met hand-to-hand at the wall and the description was taken up by Beck on Round Top and Hollenbeck at Meade's headquarters.

The broadcast closed with Daley's words: "The Gray line is retreating" and General Meade's "The battle is ours," amid Yankee cheers.

COUPLE WEDS IN YORK SATURDAY

The marriage of Miss Jane Kyle Lindemuth, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer E. Lindemuth, 208 East Market street, York, to Harold Arthur Shank, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Shank, Guernsey, was solemnized last Saturday afternoon at 4 o'clock at the home of the bride's parents. The Rev. Gerald G. Neely, pastor of Christ Lutheran church, York, performed the double ring ceremony in a setting of gladioli and dahlias.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a dress of green wool and a corsage of gardenias. She had as matron of honor and her only attendant her sister, Mrs. Theodore Jackson, Philadelphia. Edwin Welty, Spring Grove, was best man.

A small reception was held at the home immediately following the ceremony.

The couple left on a wedding trip to Williamsburg, Va., upon return from which they will reside in Hagerstown where the bridegroom is employed by the Western Maryland Railroad.

The bride is a graduate of Lewis-town high school and has been employed in the chemistry department of the Sperial Ordnance plant, York. Mr. Shank, a graduate of Biglerville high school, attended Shippensburg State Teachers' college and later enlisted in the Army Air Force in which he served as a navigator for four years. He was discharged as a first lieutenant.

Among the guests at the wedding were the bridegroom's parents and sister, Mrs. William Walker, and son, Billy, Hagerstown.

B. E. Benner Kills Colorado Bull Elk

B. E. Benner, Fairfield R. D., has returned home from Meeker, Colorado, where he shot a 700-pound bull elk, one of the largest shot in that vicinity in some time. The big animal's antlers had 12 points. The head will be mounted and the hide and meat are being processed in Colorado for shipment to Fairfield. Shipment is expected the latter part of the week. Mr. Benner also killed an 8-point, 170-pound deer.

The county hunter bagged his elk on his second day of hunting in the White River mountain section of Colorado, near Meeker. Snow fell every day during the five days Mr. Benner was hunting, the heaviest fall being four inches.

Two shots were required to bag the elk. The first shot entered the animal's stomach and the second cut his backbone.

Last year Mr. Benner and Kenneth Sites, of Fairfield, hunted in the mountains near Alberta, Canada, where each bagged an antelope.

AREA SCOUTERS CONDUCT DINNER MEETING AT 'YW'

Plans for an area court of honor to be held in York during Boy Scout week in February and details of progress in the scout roundup currently conducted in the council were among the business Tuesday evening at meeting of the York-Adams area council Boy Scout executive board held at the YWCA here.

The reports on the round-up showed that the council is within 60 per cent of its goal and that it expects to go over the top in securing new scouts and in progress made by the scouts before the end of round-up in December.

Plans for next summer's camping program at the South Mountain Memorial camp, near Dillsburg, and plans for development of the camp, which is owned by the council, were discussed.

Scout Field Executive Jack Watson presented reports on scouting activities in the various districts making up the two county area.

Those attending the dinner session included Horace Ports, president (Please Turn to Page Two)

Push Work On New Bridge Over Marsh Creek On Fairfield Road

Workmen employed by Hempt Brothers, Camp Hill contractors who are replacing the historic stone arch bridge over Marsh creek on the Fairfield road, have completed three of the four abutments of the new span; and are working on the fourth while awaiting steel for the structure as bulldozers and other equipment are going ahead with the grading on both sides of the bridge.

The old bridge is still in use by the contractors, but is not open to the public. The area surrounding the bridge bears little resemblance to the scenic beauty of the spot before work was started several weeks ago. The grove of trees on the south side of the bridge has been uprooted and removed and the southwest abutment stands where many Gettysburg residents formerly drove their cars into the creek to wash them.

Here And There News Collected At Random

Gettysburg is described as "an interesting place, a hallowed place, an inspiring place. See it if you can," by Gilbert Love in a recent article in the Pittsburgh Press. His article follows in full: Eighty-four years ago last summer, the Confederate Army of Northern Virginia began an invasion of the North. Seventy-five thousand strong, it moved up the Shenandoah and Cumberland Valleys, hoping to capture Harrisburg and threaten Washington and Baltimore from the rear.

The Union Army of the Potomac, about 84,000 men, learned of the Confederate movement. It marched up to the other side of the Blue Ridge, paralleling the Confederate advance. More-or-less by accident, the two forces met at the town of Gettysburg, Pa., and fought one of the greatest battles of all time.

For three days, men in blue and grey fought and maneuvered in the town and the countryside for miles around. When the battle was over, both armies had lost about 45,000 men—killed, wounded, missing. It ended the Confederacy's chances of victory, although the war went on for two more years.

Today the battleground is a vast military park. The peaceful Pennsylvania countryside, is studded with bronze plaques telling of desperate fights for a hill, a valley, a railroad cut. Pine monuments honor the troops from many states who fought here.

Official guides will take you around the battlefield, explaining the action from the clash of large skirmishing parties west of the town on the morning of July 1 to Pickett's bloody charge on the afternoon of the third day. Or, with the aid of a map, you can tour the battleground yourself.

You'll see places you vaguely remember from your history (Please Turn to Page 7)

Organization of the Adams District of the West Pennsylvania Conference of the Central Pennsylvania Synod of the United Lutheran Church in America was affected Tuesday evening at a meeting held in St. James Lutheran church here.

Comprised of 20 parishes in Adams county and the Hanover area, the district named the Rev. George H. Berkheimer, Arendtsville, as its head, and then completed its organization by selecting the Rev. Henry W. Sternat, Biglerville, as vice president; the Rev. Elmer Drumm, New Oxford, as secretary, and Luther Lawver, Biglerville layman, as treasurer.

Named as clerical delegates to the ULCA convention to be held in Philadelphia during October, 1948, were the Rev. Mr. Berkheimer and the Rev. Kenneth D. James, Littlestown. The alternates were selected as the Rev. D. S. Kammerer, Littlestown, and the Rev. A. M. Hollinger, Hanover.

Select Delegates

Lay delegates to the same convention were named as Dr. Bertha Paulsen, of the Gettysburg Lutheran Theological seminary, and George P. Black, Gettysburg. Alternates are Paul E. King, Littlestown, and J. Willis Weigle, Aspers.

The district meeting was opened by a scripture-reading and prayer conducted by the Rev. Dr. John Aberly, president emeritus of the local synod. The Rev. Mr. Berkheimer acted as presiding officer as a vice president of the West Pennsylvania conference until after his election as president of the new group.

A constitution and by-laws was adopted for the district which includes at present 26 active ministers and 11 retired ministers as well as lay delegates from each of the parishes.

Eleven lay delegates out of the 20 and 19 ministers out of the 37 were present for Tuesday's session. The meeting closed with benediction by the Rev. Dr. Ralph R. Gresh.

J. SNEAD CLIFT IS TRANSFERRED

J. Snead Clift, Boy Scout field executive in this section since January 1, 1946, will leave November 1 to take a similar post at Portsmouth, Va., scout officials announced today.

Clift came here after his separation from the service, in which he was a lieutenant commander with the navy, serving four years with that branch of the armed forces. Prior to the war he had been a field executive at Richmond, Va.

The first field executive ever to live in Gettysburg and maintain his office here, Clift served the entire county and part of York county, having three districts, Black Walnut, Conewago and Round Top, under his jurisdiction.

In his new post Clift will have charge of all troops in a city of 70,000. He and his family plan to move there as soon after November 1 as housing accommodations can be secured.

During his service here county scouting has grown and of the troops he assisted in reorganization, McSherrystown Catholic troop recently won the Bishop's award as the best troop in the Harrisburg diocese.

Drought Calls Off County Nimrods' Trip

Four Fairfield hunters found out the hard way over the week-end that due to drought in the New England states and New York all hunting there has been cancelled until at least two days of rain has fallen.

The four, Kenneth Sites, Stanley Slonaker, Ray Weikert, Jr., and Harry Sease left Saturday morning for Maine where they hoped to be present for the opening of the deer season scheduled for Tuesday.

Near New Haven, Conn., they pulled into a service station and the attendant there, noticing their guns and hunting clothes, asked where they planned to hunt. When they said "Maine," he advised them of the situation.

The drought in the New England states is the worst in 33 years the local hunters were told, and a large number of fires have already started in wooded areas in that section.

The play, a three-act comedy, is adapted from a radio program written by Allen Leslie. The story involves the activities of Judy Foster, a teen-age girl, in her attempts to secure the largest contributions of any solicitor for the Community Relief fund, because the solicitor with the largest amount is to be crowned queen and lead the grand march at the conclusion of the drive.

C. PAUL CESSNA IS SPEAKER FOR FAIRFIELD LIONS

"Some people say they do not have time to take part in community activities—but they do have time, an entire lifetime in which to do their share for the community in which they live," C. Paul Cessna, alumni secretary of Gettysburg college, told the Fairfield Lions club Tuesday evening at a dinner meeting at the Shelter house here.

Speaking on "Lionism," Cessna outlined the work of service clubs in providing manpower, ideas and financial aid in making their own community a better place in which to live. Mr. Cessna is a former district governor of Lions clubs.

"One really does not serve others, he serves himself in doing things for his home town," the speaker added. During his talk he described the growth of the Lions club and the services that it has and can render to the community.

Observe "Friends" Night

Robert Kleppinger, president of the Fairfield club, presided at the "Friends' Night" dinner meeting at which 11 members of the Gettysburg club were also present. Forty-four members and guests were present from Fairfield.

A. E. Hutchison, of the Gettysburg club, was "drafted" as song leader for the affair.

A meeting of the board of the Fairfield club will be held next Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock, the president announced. The next meeting of the club will be held November 4, with H. L. Harbaugh in charge.

Refinish Furniture At Group Meeting

The Conewago Home Economics Extension group met Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Maryland Appier, Hanover R. 3, with 14 present. Members of the club brought antique furniture, dough trays and small benches which they refinished. They will continue this project at the next meeting, to be held November 4, at the home of Mrs. Joseph B. Bollinger, Cross Keys-Hanover road.

The Hampton group met Tuesday night at the home of Mrs. Julius Schimmel, leader, to plan the year's program. They decided to hold meetings on the first and third Wednesday nights of each month.

The next meeting will be held November 5, at 7:30 p. m., at the home of Mrs. Mary Chromister, where members will exchange new apron patterns and do fabric painting.

Plan Halloween Party On Tuesday

Halloween games, a "chamber of horrors," and refreshments a la Halloween will be featured at a county Senior Extension club party to be held next Tuesday evening beginning at 8 o'clock in the fire hall at Benderville.

The hall will be decorated for the occasion, and every club member and guest attending is expected to wear masks.

The decorations and recreation committee in charge consists of Charles Coffelt, chairman; Teresa Murren, Charlotte Gelselman Jean Hoffman, Pauline Routsong and Edward Starnier.

Enola Trucker Hurt In N.O. Accident

H. F. Krone, Enola, was injured when the light truck he was operating was wrecked in the New Oxford square Tuesday morning shortly before 7 o'clock. The man is a patient in the Hanover hospital, where he was taken in the Hanover ambulance. His injuries include lacerations of the forehead and left leg.

Krone was driving east on the Lincoln highway and failed to negotiate the circle in the New Oxford square. The truck knocked down a guard post, tearing a chain, and struck and broke off a light pole. Damage to the truck was estimated by Chief of Police Earl L. McNale, New Oxford, at $80.

The accident was the second to occur in the New Oxford square within two days.

EXPECT $200 IN PARADE PRIZES FOR HALLOWEEN

Approximately $200 in prizes will be awarded here Thursday night, October 30, at the annual Halloween parade, the Halloween committee of Gettysburg organizations decided Tuesday evening at a meeting in the Elks' home.

Lawrence M. Sheads was selected as chairman for the committee and George Fissel was named as treasurer. Paul E. Whitmoyer director of recreation for Gettysburg, was appointed as solicitor in a drive for funds toward the prizes.

Estimated donations from various organizations will total about $200 and if additional amounts can be received from organizations and individuals larger prizes will be granted and possibly some form of entertainment in keeping with the Halloween period can be held following the parade, the committee decided.

Parade At 7:30 P.M.

Those who wish to send a donation to the committee were asked to fill out checks to "Halloween committee, George Fissel, treasurer," and send the amounts to Paul Whitmoyer, Gettysburg Recreation office, Box 81, Gettysburg. Because of the short time remaining until Halloween, no general person-to-person solicitation can be made. However as many persons as possible will be seen, the committee reported.

The parade will start at 7:30 o'clock probably from the Meade school. Members of the committee may meet today with Chief of Police Robert C. Harpster and Burgess C. A. Heiges to complete plans for the route of the parade.

Monday, November 3, was selected as the rain date provided inclement weather prohibits the affair next Thursday night.

Expect Two Bands

Prizes will be given for such things as the most unusual costumes, most beautiful costume, and funniest costume, with two divisions, adult and children, for each. Other prizes will go to the largest family in a conveyance, largest organization, oldest car, best decorated conveyance, funniest decorated float, most unusually costumed organization. A number of judges' prizes will also be set up to permit judges to give prizes for outstanding costumes and the like not under the general classification for prizes.

The exact amount for each prize will be announced following a meeting next Tuesday evening at 7:30 o'clock at the Elks after the amount of donations has been determined.

Two bands have so far promised to take part — the Blue and Gray of Gettysburg and the Biglerville high school band. The Gettysburg college bands are to be asked to participate. William I. Shields, representing the Blue and Gray at Tuesday's session, said the members of that band would dress in appropriate costume for the parade, rather than in uniform.

The student council of Gettysburg college and the heads of the various organizations participating in sponsorship of the parade will be asked to act as judges, the committee decided. Present plans call for the judges, after first reviewing the parade, to pass through the parade and distribute numbered slips to the prize winners as the parade progressed. When the parade again reaches the reviewing stand those contestants who received slips will drop out of the parade and will be given their prize money. They will then be introduced from the stand as winners.

Upper County Church Leaders Meet Nov. 4

The second in a series of meetings to plan for the inauguration of week-day religious instruction in the Upper Adams county school district will be held in the Biglerville high school Tuesday evening, November 4, at 8 o'clock.

Pastors and church school superintendents in the school district are urged to be present and bring with them other lay leaders. The Rev. Melvin L. Best, director of week-day religious education of the Pennsylvania Sabbath School association, will be the guest speaker.

Continue Study Of New C.C. Folders

Another meeting of the folder committee of the Chamber of Commerce was held Tuesday evening in the chamber's office in the Kadel building. Further discussion of plans for publishing a new Gettysburg booklet setting forth the industrial, historical and recreational advantages of the town, took place. Copies of the old booklet have been exhausted. New pictures and material will be used in the new one.

NEW SESSION OF PARLIAMENT IS OPENED BY KING

By TOM WILLIAMS
 London, Oct. 21 (P.)—King George VI opened a new session of Parliament today and in a speech written by his Socialist ministers called for Nationalization of the British Gas Industry and for a curb on the powers of the ancient House of Lords. He gave top priority, however, to economic recovery.

Both house sat together in the Lion's chamber for the ceremony marking the third legislative year of the Labor government.

Seated on a gold throne, the king gave his 15-minute speech slowly and deliberately with scarcely a pause. On his left sat the queen; on his right, Princess Elizabeth, attending her first state opening and looking demure in a long-skirted dress of dusty pink crepe.

To Trim The Lords
 In his words the king announced the government's momentous decision to trim the authority of the Lords. Legislation will be introduced to amend the Parliament act, 1911, their authority is set out in that act.

A high government source confirmed that this cryptic statement was announcement of a cabinet decision reached yesterday, to limit the power of the peers.

"A bill will be laid before you to bring the Gas Industry under public ownership in the completion of the plan for the coordination of the fuel and power industries," the king said, giving a preview of the Socialist program for the coming year.

Important Omission
 No mention was made of the nationalization of the iron and steel industry, another Socialist objective. Political observers expressed belief that the government might be holding off on this until it could restrict the Lords' authority and thus make sure the Lords could not obstruct such a move.

"The first aim of my ministers," the king declared, "will be to redress the adverse balance of payments, particularly by expanding exports."

He said his government would "continue to participate in the work of European reconstruction put in hand in the recent conference in Paris."

See Election Call
 The present character to cooperation and understanding between the peoples of the world," he said, "has strengthened the determination of my government to support the United Nations and to seek by that means to promote the mutual trust and tolerance on which peaceful progress depends."

The overwhelming Conservative majority in the House of Lords is in contrast to the Labor majority in the House of Commons.

One well informed political observer speculated that the Conservative opposition would demand that the whole issue of the Lords' authority be submitted to the country at an early general election on the grounds the government has no electoral mandate for reform in the House of Lords.

Help Pay Rent
 "An example of that would be the case of a mother and dependent children who cannot get any other quarters but the rent is above the amount permitted under DPA. In that case the county would probably pay the remainder of the rent," Mrs. Myers said.

During the discussion it was pointed out that the county home averages about 75 guests and could hold about 90.

The next meeting of the welfare council will be held December 1 at which time reports will be made on the November 17 welfare conference sessions at Pittsburgh.

The president, Mrs. R. S. Saby, presided at the meeting.

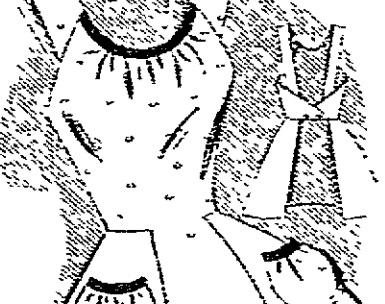

COUNTY PSEA

 tion of 35 teachers; the second 22 teachers; third, 23; fourth, 16; fifth, 17; sixth, 57 and seventh, 25. The teachers from each district will elect one member of the executive committee for each 15 teachers or fraction thereof in their district.

Members of the redistricting committee included Clyde McCauslin, chairman; Lloyd Stately, Frank E. Basehor, Wilson Wenk, Robert Randall and C. P. Keefer. The districts will elect their representatives "about insulate time," the county branch president, Arthur Gordon, announced today.

President Gordon was named as one of four classroom teacher delegates from the Southern Convention District of the PSEA to the National Education Association convention at the meeting of the convention group at Hershey last week. It was reported at the meeting Monday, Leslie W. See Steelmakers In 'Squeeze Play'

"If raw materials for steelmaking and freight rates continue to advance, no steel company can continue to sell steel at current prices. Steelmakers must face this problem before many months are out even though they have full knowledge that steel is a basic commodity, the price of which determines quotations on hundreds of other items."

DUDLEY PAGES NATIONAL LOOP

Philadelphia, Oct. 22 (AP)—Bill Dudley, who a year ago won national football league honors in four classifications while playing with the Pittsburgh Steelers, is making a great bid to repeat in the uniform of the Detroit Lions.

The latest league individual averages released today showed that Dudley, who is pacing the circuit in scoring with 42 points in touchdowns with seven, number of yards returned with pass interceptions (76) and is tied with Tony Ceno of Boston in total number of passes intercepted. Each has pulled in four enemy aerials.

In the Western division alone the former University of Virginia ace has even more laurels. He is leading the Western section in kickoff returns and in punt returns, is second to the Chicago Cardinals' Charley Trippi in ground gaining and third in pass receiving.

Baugh Best Passer

While Dudley was moving into contention for all-around individual honors, "Old Man" Sammy Baugh of Washington held to his position as the league's premier passer. He has tossed 120 aerials of which 66 have hit the mark for 1,087 yards and 10 touchdowns.

Although the Philadelphia Eagles have dropped their last two games, Steve Van Buren still is showing the way to the ground gainers. The one-time L. S. U. star has picked up 237 yards in 65 attempts for 5.5-yard average. Johnny Clement, star of the Pittsburgh Steelers' fourth quarter victory over the Eagles last Sunday, holds down second place with 308 yards. Trippi and Dudley, the Western division leaders, are next in line with 224 and 203 yards, respectively.

Maronic Is Out Of Eagle Lineup

Maronic, former Steelton, Pa. high school athlete, was injured in last Sunday's losing battle with the Pittsburgh Steelers. Physicians said yesterday it will take at least four weeks to heal and the same length of time for Maronic to regain full use of the leg.

The Eagles were busy practicing on pass defense in anticipation of the good right arm of Bob Weaver, who will direct the "I" powered attack of the Los Angeles Rams against the Birds on Sunday at Shibe Park.

Sports Roundup

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.

New York, Oct. 22 (AP)—For the benefit of football fans who still are excited over Frank Leahy's offer to send his Notre Dame team against Michigan any time, one guy who usually knows the score at South Bend gives this explanation: It was merely Frank's reaction to outside criticism of his players. He figures he can put them on the griddle if he wants, but when someone else starts, Leahy becomes a strong defender of his own men. ... Also, our informant adds, he knew the players would read his remarks. ... Doc Romnes, former Chicago Blackhawk, has a dozen lettermen working out for his U. of Minnesota hockey team. ... City college of New York, which expects to have one of the top basketball teams this season, will play only two of its 21 games on the home court—and only two out of town.

KID STUFF

In two high school games played the same night, only eight miles apart, Wisconsin Rapids and Nekeosa, Wis., high schools both made perfect playing records. Wisconsin Rapids completed six straight, four for touchdowns, and Nekeosa made four, two of which scored. ... But they were not playing each other. ... And in Tonawanda, N. Y., high schooler Pete Higgins batted 90 straight conversions in practice. Came the big game with Lackawanna last Friday and Pete didn't get a chance as the game ended with an 0-0 score.

Bednarik May Not Play Against Navy

Philadelphia, Oct. 22 (AP)—Penn's undefeated football team may be without the services of Charley (Chuck) Bednarik, star center and key figure in Coach George Munger's pass defense in the Navy game Saturday.

Big Bednarik was missing from practice yesterday on the advice of the team physician and does not think he'll be able to play. The center was kicked in the back in the Columbia game and still has some pain. Dr. J. W. Welke expressed the optimistic opinion that if Bednarik responds to treatment he may get into the game.

Meanwhile, Penn sharpened its running game with Tony Minini, Don Schneider, Bob Evans, Bill Lougso, Ray Dooney and Jack Quinn doing some plain and fancy running.

BROOKS FAIL TO PLACE ON AP ALL-STAR

New York, Oct. 22 (AP)—Only one member of the world champion New York Yankees and not one of the National league pennant winning Brooklyn Dodgers made the 1947 major league all-star team of the Associated Press picked by 233 baseball writers throughout the nation.

The Giants were represented by Johnny Mize at first base and Walker Cooper behind the plate. The Indians donated their fine key-stone combination of Shortstop Lou Boudreau and Second Baseman Joe Gordon. The Braves placed Third Baseman Bob Elliott and Left-handed Pitcher Warren Spahn.

Joe DiMaggio of the Yankees, Ted Williams of the Boston Red Sox and Ralph Kiner of the Pittsburgh Pirates made up the outfield while Ewell Blackwell of the Cincinnati Reds won top honors among the right-handed pitchers.

Committee Orders Game To Be Played

Pittsburgh, Oct. 22 (AP)—The WPIAL Decisions committee has sanctioned rescheduling of a football game between Blairsville and Derry township for the week of November 17.

The game, postponed because of a strike at Derry, is needed to give Blairsville the required number of games to be eligible for Class A title honors.

The committee, at a meeting last night, also made its first ruling on a girl student when it declared Joan Platt of Munnhall ineligible to compete on the school's rifle team. The girl still lives in Munnhall but her parents have moved from town.

There was much discussion of a disturbance at the Ambridge-Rochester football game at Ambridge last Friday but no action was taken. In the melee, two officials were assaulted.

Officials told the committee police protection was inadequate at the game which had 15,500 spectators. Ambridge school officials asserted 32 policemen were on hand. Ambridge coach, Moe Rubenstein, said most of the trouble resulted because officials failed to call time to clear spectators from the end zone.

Secret Session Held By Students

Pittsburgh, Oct. 22 (AP)—The University of Pittsburgh student congress, whose recent criticism of the school's football status stirred widespread comment, has met again but it was a closed session and leaders said no announcement will be made until the next issue of the school paper, the Pitt News.

Meanwhile, the faculty committee on athletics agreed to hear a demand from students for a change in the school's football policy. A date for the audience was not set immediately.

"We've got to decide on some sort of a remunerative system for the various athletic teams or get out of the big league," Robert Dickey, Congress delegate, said at the group's first meeting.

Erie Sailors Get New Manager

Springfield O., Oct. 22 (AP)—Playing manager Don Ramsey of the Class D Ohio state league Springfield Glans was released from his contract so he can take over the Erie, Pa., Sailors in the Class C mid-Atlantic league next season, Robert Ireland, Springfield club secretary, disclosed today.

Ramsey, a catcher, managed the Giants two seasons. They won the Ohio state league pennant in 1946, but lost to the Zanesville Dodgers in the playoffs. Last season his club finished fourth, but was again defeated in the playoffs by Zanesville.

WPIAL CHAMPS FACE BIG TEST WITH AMBRIDGE

Harrisburg, Oct. 22 (AP)—Pennsylvania's scholastic football teams turned into the final week of October with conference races still undecided and the state's longest winning streak in danger.

New Kensington, the only team to carry an unbeaten string from the 1946 season into the final week of the 1947 campaign will be faced with a real test on Friday when the defending champions of the WPIAL entertain Ambridge.

Other top-flight WPIAL frays send unbeaten Brownsville to Washington, Mt. Lebanon to Munnhall, Penn High to Wilkensburg, Charter to McKeesport and Rochester to Farrell. Another headline game which would have sent Vandergrift against unbeaten Har-Brack on the latter's field was called off due to the death of a Vandergrift player in last week's game.

Games In West

While the final contenders for WPIAL honors are swinging into action New Castle, one of the strongest teams in the west, entertains Erie East; Bradford risks its unbeaten season at Sharon; Warren visits Ridgeway; Kane plays at Punxsutawney, and Cathedral Prep meets Erie Academy in a city series contest.

In the midwest the headline game finds Alcona at Johnston in the resumption of a traditional series that was halted for a few years by an official edict of the Pennsylvania Interscholastic Athletic association. The game will attract a capacity crowd to Polk stadium in Johnston, and both teams will be primed for the contest.

Unbeaten Indiana journeys to Elensburg, while in the same sector Tyrone, present leader of the Western conference, invades Lock Haven, and Westmont, beaten only by Indiana, entertains Somerset for a traditional encounter.

Central Penn Games

Turning to the east the coal region fans will turn out in full force for Coalville's game with Nesquehoning that may decide the Eastern conference Southern division title, while in the same area Hazle township visits West Hazleton and in the Northern division unbeaten Blakely figures to have little trouble with Archbald.

Lebanon, present leader of the Central Penn conference, visits William Penn of Harrisburg; Steelton meets a real test at Lancaster, and John Harris, a strong contender for conference honors, journeys to Williamsport. Reading at York completes the Central Penn schedule.

In the scholastic conference Hanover, present leader of the South Penn group, meets Coalville in an exhibition game, while Carlisle, the chief contender for title honors, entertains Hershey.

Middletown, unbeaten leader of the Lower Susquehanna conference, plays host to Enoch, and Reading Central Catholic clashes with Harrisburg Catholic in another headline attraction.

Bewitch Retired With Leg Ailment

Laurel, Oct. 22 (AP)—Bewitch, sensational little speedster which one month ago had race track fans talking to themselves because of her eight consecutive victories, has been retired for the year—just $425 short of Top Flight's money-winning record for juvenile fillies.

Ben Jones, general manager of Calumet farm, and his son, Trainer Jimmy Jones, announced yesterday the 2-year-old dark brown daughter of Bull Lea and Potteen will be out of harness for the remainder of 1947 to have a growth on her leg fixed.

Jones said the ailment "is nothing serious" and first bothered Bewitch about six weeks ago. Up to that time the filly seemed a sure bet to overcome top flight's 16-year-old mark of $219,000.

Out-Of-State Horses Win Honors

Harrisburg, Oct. 22 (AP)—With out-of-state and Canadian horses holding the spotlight the Pennsylvania National Horse show moved into its second day with 18 events on the schedule for afternoon and evening.

Entries from Canada, North Carolina, Maryland, Ohio, and New York state carried off most of the blue ribbons during the show's opening day program with Richard K. Mellon, of Ligonier, taking two ribbons with Hyland's Post in the Green Hunter classes.

There were 52 entries in the warm-up jumper class yesterday, and it took two and one half hours to determine that Fliegla, owned by Mrs. Audrey K. Kennedy, of the Seven Star stables, Southern Pines, N. C., was the best jumper in the big list.

ANTI-FREEZE IS ON SCARCE LIST FOR THIS WINTER

By GEORGE TUCKER

New York, Oct. 22 (AP)—Your car is in for a rough winter, motorists. Like 40 cent steaks and cheap housing, anti-freeze is on the scarce list.

"The plain truth is, the chemical industry just hasn't got the capacity to manufacture all the anti-freeze needed this winter," one manufacturer said.

Another declared: "Just as soon as the temperature drops, all hell breaks loose."

Why The Shortage?

Why an industry-wide shortage? Productive capacity is insufficient, more cars are on the roads than ever before, people in northern cities invariably over-buy, and there is a shortage of drums and transportation facilities.

Said one Du Pont representative: "Chemicals used in anti-freeze have other important industrial uses, and the demand from other quarters is unprecedented."

According to local dealers, alcohol manufacturers say orders have increased sharply in the last three weeks, but many can't be filled before the end of the year.

TOWLER LEADS STATE SCORING

(By The Associated Press)

A glance at the football scoring summaries will show why Dan Towler is mighty important down Washington way.

Washington and Jefferson's presidents have chalked up 80 points in breakers even in four games and 30 of them have borne Towler's label to keep him in front of the state's collegiate scoring parade.

In four games the W. & J. fullback has racked up seven touchdowns and added eight extra points.

Joe Carone, searchlight for the undefeated West Chester Teachers', also has scored seven touchdowns for second place with 42 points. Jett Durkota, one of the 17 Penn State players that has broken into the scoring column, is third with 36 points.

Scot Mine Leaders Ask Wage Increase

London, Oct. 22 (AP)—Scottish mine union leaders came to London today to join in demanding a one pound ($4) a week wage increase for British coal workers while a wildcat strike among Scottish miners spread to 21,500 men, who produce about 40 per cent of Scotland's coal.

The strike began Monday as a move to enforce claims for a wage boost for haulage and repair workers in the Scottish pits. They now get a five pound ($20) weekly minimum gross but complain that taxes and other deductions trim their take home pay to an average of four pounds, seven shillings ($17.40) weekly.

Workers at 67 of Scotland's 194 pits were out today, said a national coal board statement which estimated the daily loss of coal at 32,500 tons.

FIND CHILD'S BODY

Lebanon, Pa., Oct. 22 (AP)—The body of two-year-old Glenn Snyder, of nearby Anville, was discovered floating in a small reservoir on his farm home. The child's father, Alfred H. Snyder, who discovered the body yesterday, said his son apparently wandered away from the house while playing.

DUDLEY PACES NATIONAL LOOP

Philadelphia, Oct. 22 (AP)—Bill Dudley, who a year ago won national football league honors in four classifications while playing with the Pittsburgh Steelers, is making a great bid to repeat in the uniform of the Detroit Lions.

The latest league individual averages released today showed that Dudley is pacing the circuit in scoring with 42 points, in touchdowns with seven, number of yards returned with pass interceptions (76) and is tied with Tony Peno of Boston in total number of passes intercepted. Each has pulled in four enemy aerials.

In the Western division alone the former University of Virginia ace has even more laurels. He is leading the Western section in kickoff returns and in punt returns, is second to the Chicago Cardinals' Charley Trippi in ground gaining and third in pass receiving.

Baugh Best Passer
While Dudley was moving into contention for all-around individual honors, "Old Man" Sammy Baugh of Washington held to his position as the league's premier passer. He has tossed 120 aerials of which 66 have hit the mark for 1,087 yards and 10 touchdowns.

Although the Philadelphia Eagles have dropped their last two games, Steve Van Buren still is showing the way to the ground gainers. The one-time L. S. U. star has picked up 357 yards in 65 attempts for 5.5-yard average. Johnny Clement, star of the Pittsburgh Steelers' fourth quarter victory over the Eagles last Sunday, holds down second place with 308 yards. Trippi and Dudley, the Western division leaders, are next in line with 224 and 203 yards, respectively.

Maronic Is Out Of Eagle Lineup

Philadelphia, Oct. 22 (AP)—Duke Maronic, veteran Philadelphia Eagle guard is through for the season due to a fracture of a small bone just above the left ankle.

Maronic, former Steelton, Pa., high school athlete, was injured in last Sunday's losing battle with the Pittsburgh Steelers. Physicians said yesterday it will take at least four weeks to heal and the same length of time for Maronic to regain full use of the leg.

The Eagles were busy practicing on pass defense in anticipation of the good right arm of Bob Waterfield, who will direct the "T" powered attack of the Los Angeles Rams against the Birds on Sunday at Shibe Park.

Wilmington, Del., Oct. 22 (AP)—George Jackson Sanford, who piloted the Terre Haute, Ind., club to second place in the Three Eye league last season, is the new manager of the Wilmington Blue Rocks.

The 37-year-old native of Birmingham, Ala., succeeds Jack Saltz-gaver who resigned after leading the Blue Rocks to victory in the Governor's Cup playoff.

QUINCY TO PLAY AT BIGLERVILLE THURSDAY NIGHT

Having played three consecutive games on foreign territory since September 25, the Biglerville high school football team returns to its home field Thursday evening when the Quincy Orphanage eleven from Franklin county will be met at 8 o'clock.

The Cannons will be out to snap a three-game losing streak, all games played on the "road" having resulted in reverses.

Bob Weikert, husky fullback, who missed last week's game with West York due to an injury received in an accident, will probably miss action again Thursday night. George Weaver, quarterback, who saw only part time duty last week due to a knee injury, is expected to be available for full time work.

Coach Gene Haas plans to move Clark Heller to fullback with Grim and Marty Heller at halfbacks and Weaver at quarterback.

The line will be intact with Reinicker and Kiffe at ends; Pitzer and Weikert, tackles; Rice, House and Unger, guards, and Naylor, center.

Quincy has won its last three games. After losing to Shippensburg 14-7 and Red Lion 38-0, the Franklin countians won from Patton Trade 27-13; Mercersburg Academy Jayvees 34-7, and the Scotland Reserves 24-0.

Sports Roundup

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.

New York, Oct. 22 (AP)—For the benefit of football fans who still are excited over Frank Leahy's offer to send his Notre Dame team against Michigan any time, one guy who usually knows the score at South Bend gives this explanation: It was merely Frank's reaction to outside criticism of his players. He figures he can put them on the griddle if he wants, but when someone else starts, Leahy becomes a strong defender of his own men. . . . Also, our informant adds, he knew the players would read his remarks. . . . Doc Rommes, former Chicago Blackhawk, has a dozen lettermen working out for his U. of Minnesota hockey team. . . . City college of New York, which expects to have one of the top basketball teams this season, will play only two of its 21 games on the home court—and only two out of town.

KID STUFF

In two high school games played the same night only eight mile apart, Wisconsin Rapids and Nekeosa, Wis., high schools both made perfect passing records. Wisconsin Rapids completed six straight, four for touchdowns, and Nekeosa made four, two of which scored. . . . And they were playing each other. . . . And in Tonawanda, N. Y., high schooler Pete Higgins booted 90 straight conversions in practice. Came the big game with Lackawanna last Friday and Pete didn't get a chance as the game ended with an 0-0 score.

END OF THE LINE

Villanova's Jim Houghton tells of a coach who saw one of his 150-pound team players rip off a 25-yard gain and yelled: "Look. He ran that play the wrong way again. Won't he ever learn?"

Bednarik May Not Play Against Navy

Philadelphia, Oct. 22 (AP)—Penn's undefeated football team may be without the services of Charley (Chuck) Bednarik, star center and key figure in Coach George Muner's pass defense in the Navy game Saturday.

Big Bednarik was missing from practice yesterday on the advice of the team physician and does not think he'll be able to play. The center was kicked in the back in the Columbia game and still has some pain. Dr. J. W. Welte expressed the optimistic opinion that if Bednarik responds to treatment he may get into the game.

Meanwhile, Penn sharpened its running game with Tony Minis, Don Schneider, Bob Evans, Bill Loungo, Ray Dooney and Jack Quinn doing some plain and fancy running.

BROOKS FAIL TO PLACE ON AP ALL-STAR

New York, Oct. 22 (AP)—Only one member of the world champion New York Yankees and not one of the National league pennant winning Brooklyn Dodgers made the 1947 major league all-star team of the Associated Press picked by 233 baseball writers throughout the nation.

The Giants were represented by Johnny Mize at first base and Walker Cooper behind the plate. The Indians donated their fine key-stone combination of Shortstop Lou Boudreau and Second Baseman Joe Gordon. The Braves placed Third Baseman Bob Elliott and Left-handed Pitcher Warren Spahn.

Joe DiMaggio of the Yankees, Ted Williams of the Boston Red Sox and Ralph Kiner of the Pittsburgh Pirates made up the outfield while Ewell Blackwell of the Cincinnati Reds won top honors among the right-handed pitchers.

Williams First-Choice

No player was a unanimous choice. Williams, who led the American league in about every noteworthy batting department, drew the most support from the scribes, polling 209 out of a possible 233 votes. DiMaggio was close behind with 207 votes. Mize was third with 189 followed by Boudreau, 177; Blackwell, 158; Cooper, 141; Kiner, 137; Spahn, 115; Gordon, 113; and Elliott, 99.

The selections:
Outfield—Ted Williams, Red Sox.
Joe DiMaggio, Yankees; Ralph Kiner, Pirates.

First base—Johnny Mize, Giants.
Second base—Joe Gordon, Indians.

Third base—Bob Elliott, Braves.
Shortstop—Lou Boudreau, Indians.

Catcher—Walker Cooper, Giants.

Committee Orders Game To Be Played

Pittsburgh, Oct. 22 (AP)—The WPIAL Decisions committee has sanctioned rescheduling of a football game between Blairsville and Derry township for the week of November 17.

The game, postponed because of a strike at Derry, is needed to give Blairsville the required number of games to be eligible for Class A title honors.

The committee, at a meeting last night, also made its first ruling on a girl student when it declared Joan Piatt of Munnah ineligible to compete on the school's rifle team. The girl still lives in Munnah but her parents have moved from town.

There was much discussion of a disturbance at the Ambridge-Rochester football game at Ambridge last Friday but no action was taken. In the melee, two officials were assaulted.

Officials told the committee police protection was inadequate at the game which had 15,500 spectators. Ambridge school officials asserted 32 policemen were on hand. Ambridge coach, Mo Rubenstein, said most of the trouble resulted because officials failed to call time to clear spectators from the end zone.

Secret Session Held By Students

Pittsburgh, Oct. 22 (AP)—The University of Pittsburgh student congress, whose recent criticism of the school's football status stirred widespread comment, has met again but it was a closed session and leaders said no announcement will be made until the next issue of the school paper, the Pitt News.

Meanwhile, the faculty committee on athletics agreed to hear a demand from students for a change in the school's football policy. A date for the audience was not set immediately.

"We've got to decide on some sort of a remunerative system for the various athletic teams or get out of the big league," Robert Dickey, Congress delegate, said at the group's first meeting.

Erie Sailors Get New Manager

Springfield O., Oct. 22 (AP)—Playing manager Don Ramsay of the Class D Ohio state league Springfield Giants was released from his contract so he can take over the Erie, Pa., Sailors in the Class C mid-Atlantic league next season. Robert Ireland, Springfield club secretary, disclosed today.

Ramsay, a catcher, managed the Giants two seasons. They won the Ohio state league pennant in 1946, but lost to the Zanesville Dodgers in the playoffs. Last season his club finished fourth, but was again defeated in the playoffs by Zanesville.

WPIAL CHAMPS FACE BIG TEST WITH AMBRIDGE

By TOM SHRIVER

Harrisburg, Oct. 22 (AP)—Pennsylvania's scholastic football teams turned into the final week of October with conference races still undetermined and the state's longest winning streak in danger.

New Kensington, the only team to carry an unbeaten string from the 1946 season into the final weeks of the 1947 campaign will be faced with a real test on Friday when the defending champions of the WPIAL entertain Ambridge.

Other top-flight WPIAL frays send unbeaten Brownsville to Washington, Mt. Lebanon to Munnah, Penn High to Wilkensburg, Charleroi to McKeesport and Rochester to Farrell. Another headline game which would have sent Vandergriff against unbeaten Har-Brack on the latter's field was called off due to the death of a Vandergriff player in last week's game.

Games In West

While the final contenders for WPIAL honors are swinging into action New Castle, one of the strongest teams in the west, entertains Erie East; Bradford risks its unbeaten season at Sharon; Warren visits Ridgeway; Kane plays at Punxsutawney, and Cathedral Prep meets Erie Academy in a city series contest.

In the midwest the headline game finds Altoona at Johnstown in the resumption of a traditional series that was halted for a few years by an official edict of the Pennsylvania Interscholastic Athletic association. The game will attract a capacity crowd to Point stadium in Johnstown, and both teams will be primed for the contest.

Unbeaten Indiana journeys to Ebensburg, while in the same sector Tyrone, present leader of the Western conference, invades Lock Haven, and Westmont, beaten only by Indiana, entertains Somerset for a traditional encounter.

Central Penn Games

Turning to the east the coal region fans will turn out in full force for Coalale's game with Nesquehoning that may decide the Eastern conference Southern division title, while in the same area Hazle township visits West Hazleton and in the Northern division unbeaten Blakely figures to have little trouble with Archhald.

Lebanon, present leader of the Central Penn conference, visits William Penn of Harrisburg; Steelton meets a real test at Lancaster, and John Harris, a strong contender for conference honors, journeys to Williamsport. Reading at York completes the Central Penn schedule.

In the smaller conference Hanover, present leader of the South Penn group, meets Columbia in an exhibition game, while Carlisle, the chief contender for title honors, entertains Hershey.

Middletown, unbeaten leader of the Lower Susquehanna conference, plays host to Enola, and Reading Central Catholic clashes with Harrisburg Catholic in another headline attraction.

Bewitch Retired With Leg Ailment

Laurel, Oct. 22 (AP)—Bewitch, sensational little speedster which one month ago had race track fans talking to themselves because of her eight consecutive victories, has been retired for the year—just $4,235 short of Top Flight's money-winning record for juvenile fillies.

Ben Jones, general manager of Calumet farm, and his son, Trainer Jimmy Jones, announced yesterday the fleet, dark brown daughter of Bull Lea and Potheen will be out of harness for the remainder of 1947 to have a growth on her leg fired.

Jones said the ailment "is nothing serious" and first bothered Bewitch about six weeks ago. Up to that time the filly seemed a sure bet to overcome top flight's 16-year-old mark of $219,000.

As many as 2,000 people per square mile live in the Ganges valley of India.

U. S. farm production rose 25 per cent between 1939 and 1944.

By GEORGE MATTHEW ADAMS
EDUCATION BY EXAMPLE

How few of us realize our debt to others. And, yet, perhaps they are our best and most enduring teachers. In early life we see about us examples of success. We are filled with admiration and with a desire to emulate them. Many of us can well say that our ambition was kindled, in early life, by the examples about us.

Many a teacher, in school or college, has done a better job at teaching character than mathematics, history or Latin. And those are the lessons that last throughout life, influencing others in turn. Education by example is the most potent and lasting of all methods of education. I can frankly say that I learned very little from my able mathematics teacher in college, but the character of the man so impressed me that his influence lives today, not only in my own life but in the lives of great numbers who also came under his teaching.

All of us are unconsciously influenced by example. We are influenced in our way of life, even in the town where we live. We catch its spirit. And its tempo becomes our own. We fall into the example set by the majority.

Potentialities are forever germinating within us all. Some one example, outstanding in its field, may arouse, at any time, one of these potentialities with us, to life and to mature achievement. The familiar formula—that what one can do another can—is not too old to bear in mind, for every example of merit completed is a lesson for us all.

It would amaze the average human being to learn that Nature was actually first in most of the inventive activities of man. All through the world of Nature are illustrated examples and lessons that have been adapted to man's wide use. No one, who will study nature with an eager and searching eye, can possibly remain ignorant. Those who have gone to school at the University of Nature have gone out into life better prepared, and with a higher sense of appreciation and understanding, than from any other school on earth.

There is something of the born hero worship in us all. It's the example that stands forth—the example of solutions and the courage that brought them about.

News Of Interest To Upper Communities Of County

BACK GOVERNOR ON FIRE DANGER

Officials of the Upper County Fish and Game association today joined forces with Governor Duff in backing up the Governor's announced intention of refusing to permit the opening of the small game hunting season November 1, if the weather continues as dry as it has.

Charles Gulden, Aspers, president of the upper county group, which so far has done outstanding work in the conservation and development of upper end game, today said that "it would not be safe to permit the season to open. The woods and fields are bone dry and the fires that could result would be disastrous."

Since its inception about a year ago, the upper county group has already put out almost 2,000 rabbits, ringneck pheasants, and quail to repopulate the diminishing game in the area. In addition nearly 1,000 trout have been stocked by the club in the upper county streams.

The problem of Opossum creek pollution which this fall has caused the death of hundreds of fish and virtually killed off all life within the stream as far south as Center Mills seems certain of solution, President Gulden added.

The company that seemed to be the main source of the pollution has been taking every step necessary to eliminate the flow of death causing materials into the stream, Gulden said. Present plans of the company, when completed, should take care of the entire problem, Gulden said in praising the cooperation of the company officials in the matter.

Approximately 200 signatures have been secured by the association to petitions asking that an open doe season scheduled for this year, be called off, the president said.

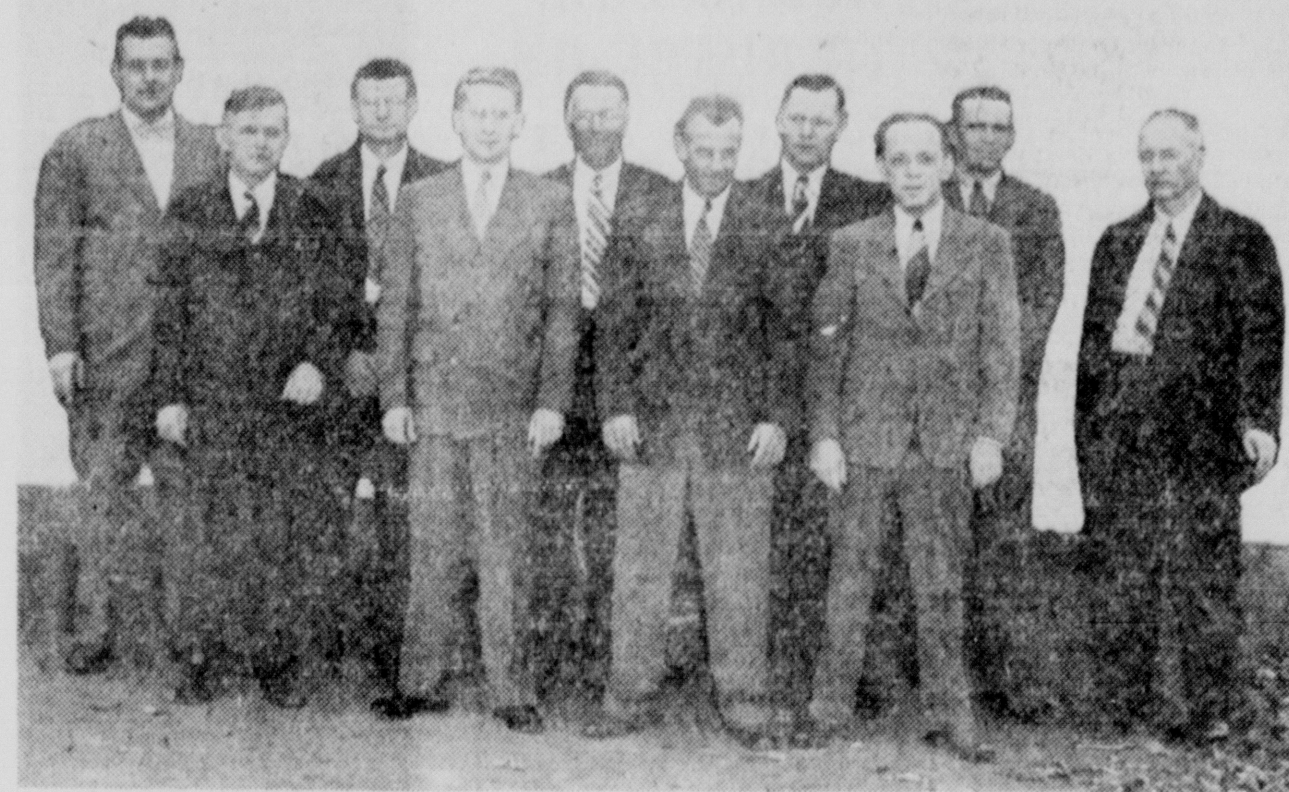

Next meeting of the association will be held November 20.

Honey Production Increases In Penna.

In spite of adverse weather conditions early in the season, Pennsylvania honey bees this year are expected to come through with approximately one and three-fourths million pounds more honey than in 1946, the state Department of Agriculture announced following Federal-State surveys.

Total honey production this year is estimated at 6,825,000 pounds compared with 5,086,000 in 1946, the survey disclosed. Chief reason for the advance was an increase in the number of colonies of bees in the state from 181,000 to 195,000 while production per colony jumped from 28 to 35 pounds.

APPLE WEEK TO BE OBSERVED IN ADAMS COUNTY

Upper Adams county is scheduled to join the rest of the nation in celebrating National Apple Week. The week honoring the apple as the king of fruits will begin this Saturday and will extend to Saturday, November 1.

While full plans have not as yet been completed for the county's participation in the festival, one of the big events will be the annual apple show held in the Gettysburg National bank starting Thursday and ending Saturday night.

Attempts are being made to secure the cooperation of some restaurants in the county in serving special apple dishes during the week and some growers are discussing the possibility of the county fruit growers association setting up a float honoring the apple to take part in the various Halloween parades in the county. Halloween, October 31, is national apple day.

Issue Apple Booklets
To stir interest in the apple — oldest known fruit — some Adams countians today were distributing booklets on the home use of apples produced by the Appalachian Apple Service to which many of the Adams Adams county growers belong. The booklet details the health giving qualities of the apple, tells something of its history and then presents a number of recipes for producing delicious dishes from the apple.

In the section devoted to the history of the apple the booklet points out that the apple, known as the "gift of the Gods" is the oldest of known fruits.

"So far as is known they originated in the Caspian Sea (Asia) region not far from where the Garden of Eden is believed to have been located. Apples grow there today — only one to two inches in diameter, acid and astringent — parents of today's succulent, delicious and big juicy Stayman. The apple is first cousin to the rose; is of the Rosaceae family. Note the close resemblance between apple blossoms and wild rose blossoms.

"Most of the apple varieties have come from chance seedlings. The Stayman is a chance seedling of the famed old-time Winesap found near Leavenworth, Kansas, about 1875. Grimes Golden was found, a chance seedling, in West Virginia about 1880. The York Imperial was found near York about 1890 and the Golden Delicious was found in West Virginia about 1912.

Largest Fruit Crop
"Apples were here on the U.S. with it not before the white man. As early as 1647, apples are recorded as being granted on wild stock in Virginia. In 1686, one William Fitzhugh had a large orchard of about 2,500 trees, most grafted well fenced. In 1726 a New Englander, Dudley, records that 'Our people of late years have run so much upon orchards that in a village near Boston, consisting of 40 families, they made near ten thousand barrels of cider.' Apples are the nation's and the world's largest fruit crop. 124 million bushels is the ten-year average crop in the United States; enough apples to fill a solid train of a quarter-million refrigerator cars, 253 miles long; almost a bushel, or 150 apples, for every man, woman and child in the United States.

Broiler Exhibit To Be Feature Of Show

A special attraction at the 1948 Pennsylvania Farm Show next January 12-16 will be the live broiler exhibit open to all producers of this type of chicken within the state. The Farm Show Commission is offering liberal cash awards. There will be 24 different classes according to the weights, color and sex of the birds.

In addition to cash awards, there will be a gold medal for the grand champion pen of broilers in the show, and a silver medal for the reserve champion exhibit. An entry fee of $2.00 will be charged for each entry. The show commission will provide coops, feed and care for the birds during the show.

Today's Talk
By GEORGE MATTHEW ADAMS
EDUCATION BY EXAMPLE

How few of us realize our debt to others. And, yet, perhaps they are our best and most enduring teachers. In early life we see about us examples of success. We are filled with admiration and with a desire to emulate them. Many of us call well say that our ambition was kindled, in early life, by the examples about us.

Many a teacher in school or college, has done a better job at teaching character than mathematics, history or Latin. And those are the lessons that last throughout life, influencing others in turn. Education, for example, is the most potent and lasting of all methods of education. I can frankly say that I learned very little from my college mathematics teacher in college, but the character of the man so impressed me that his influence lives today, not only in my own life but in the lives of great numbers who also came under his teaching.

All of us are unconsciously influenced by example. We are influenced in our way of life, even in the town where we live. We catch it's spirit. And its tempo becomes our own. We fall into the example set by the majority.

Potentialities are forever germinating within us all. Some one example, outstanding in its field, may arouse, at any time, one of these potentialities within us, to life and to mature achievement. The familiar formula—that who one man can do another can—is not too old to bear in mind, for every example of merit completed is a lesson for us all.

It would amaze the average human being to learn that Nature was actually first in most of the inventive activities of man. All through the world of Nature are illustrated examples and lessons that have been adapted to man's wide use. No one, who will study nature with an eager and searching eye, can possibly remain ignorant. Those who have gone to school at the University of Nature have gone out into life better prepared, and with a higher sense of appreciation and understanding, than from any other school on earth.

There is something of the born hero worship in us all. It's the example that stands forth—the example of solutions and the courage that brought them about.

News Of Interest To Upper Communities Of County

BACK GOVERNOR ON FIRE DANGER

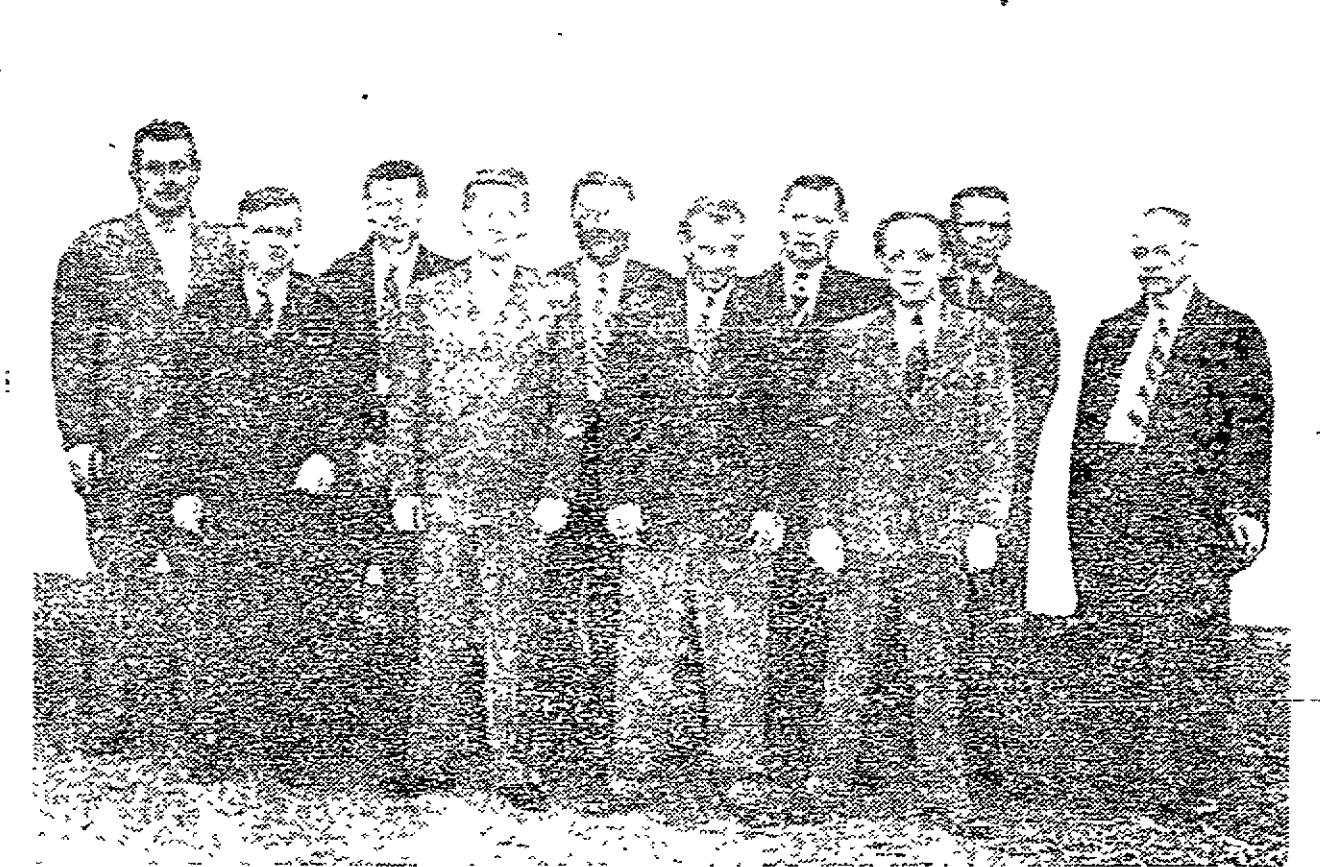

Officials of the Upper County Fish and Game association today joined forces with Governor Duff in backing up the Governor's announced intention of refusing to permit the opening of the small game hunting season November 1 if the weather continues as dry as it has.

Charles Gudden, A. J. Peters, president of the upper county group, which so far has done outstanding work in the conservation and development of upper end game, today said that he would not be safe to permit the season to open. The woods and fields are some dry and the fires that could result would be disastrous.

Since its inception about a year ago, the upper county group has already put out almost 2,000 rabbits, muskrat, muskrats, and quail to repopulate the diminishing game in the area. In addition nearly 1,000 trout have been stocked by the club in the upper county streams.

The problem of Opossum creek pollution which this fall has caused the death of hundreds of fish and virtually killed off all life within the stream as far south as Center Mills seems certain of solution, President Gudden added.

General Committee For Mardi Gras

One committee on which everyone works is the committee set up by the Arendtsville fire company for the Mardi Gras to be held in the South Mountain Fair grounds, Halloween night, October 31. Shown above are some of the chairman for the various sections of the committee. They include, back row, left to right, W. Lefkoy Ziegler, chairman; Clyde A. Allison, Emory O. Fisset, fire company president; Earl O. Staub, John A. Ruffensperger; front row, left to right, Miles R. Deardorff, Donald Ernst, Alton P. Weirman, Arnold E. Orner and E. D. Bushman, fire chief.

The program for the Mardi Gras will include such things as a masked ball with Russ Nare and his music direct from the Spring Garden club of York; old time square dancing, a full length motion picture, and a costume parade during which over 100 prizes will be given. This year the Mardi Gras will be twice the size of last year's affair, officials state. On display at the Mardi Gras will be the company's new fire engine.

Honey Production Increases In Penna.

In spite of adverse weather conditions early in the season, Pennsylvania honey bees this year are expected to come through with approximately one and three-fourths million pounds more honey than in 1946, the state Department of Agriculture announced following Federal-State surveys.

Total honey production this year is estimated at 6,825,000 pounds compared with 5,686,000 in 1946, the survey disclosed. Chief reason for the advance was an increase in the number of colonies of bees in the state from 181,000 to 195,000 while production per colony jumped from 26 to 35 pounds.

RAZIL IN BREAK WITH RUSSIANS

Santiago, Chile, Oct. 22 (AP)—Chile, among Communists for a recent al strike, was aligned with Brazil day in a diplomatic break with a Soviet Union.

The Chilean government said last night it had severed diplomatic and consular relations with Russia and Czechoslovakia as well because "instigations of international communists" held to have "disrupted the public quiet of Chile."

The Brazilian foreign ministry announced earlier in Rio De Janeiro that Brazil had cut diplomatic relations with the Soviet government because of what it called "outrageous and even calumnious" Russian press attacks of Brazil's President Getulio Gaspar Dutra and her army.

Eastern Bloc Is Out

Chile's step will leave the Soviet-led section of Europe without a representative in Santiago. Yugoslavia broke relations with Chile Oct. 11 in protest at Chile's expulsion of two Yugoslav diplomats. No other countries in the eastern European bloc have had representation here.

Brazil, with some 42,000,000 inhabitants and an area bigger than the continental United States, has Communist party claiming 200,000 members — largest in the western hemisphere — although it was outlawed last May. Chile, with about 3,000,000 population and a size roughly equaling Texas plus West Virginia, has a Communist party claiming 70,000.

Both countries have maintained diplomatic relations with Russia since 1945. Chile's Communists dominate unions of coal, copper and nitrate miners.

200 BUILDINGS
LOST IN MAINE
FOREST FIRES

Goose Rocks Beach, Me., Oct. 22 (AP)—A terrifying forest fire consumed almost 200 buildings along a five mile stretch of picturesque Maine coastline before it was brought under control early today.

Most of the razed structures were summer cottages, but there were scores of homeless families in the Goose Rocks, Cape Porpoise and Wildes districts of Kennebunkport. Kennebunkport village, with 2,000 residents, was spared, as diminishing winds and effective backfiring stemmed the advance of the fire—the most serious of 40 burning in Maine's long-parched forestlands.

Firemen reported early today that the blaze which swept the Cape Porpoise section was still burning along a 15-mile front.

Farmers in the path of the flames moved livestock, and carried household equipment into the village of Kennebunkport for storage in garages and other business establishments.

A number of farm families also were quartered for the night in business places in the village.

5,000 Fight Flames

At least 5,000 firefighters and volunteers tried to keep the flames from racing into the village.

With nearly another hundred homes and cottages lost in other parts of the state, Forest Commissioner Raymond Randall estimated the loss at more than $1,000,000.

Kennebunkport is the site of a large summer colony of artists and writers.

Among the razed buildings at Goose Rocks was the summer art school of the nationally known painter, Elliot O'Hara.

The blaze indirectly claimed one life—that of a man directing traffic in the fire zone. Several firemen suffered minor hurts and one was reported missing.

The Maine situation—worst in the east—was described by Randall as "the most explosive" ever recorded in the state. New York, New Jersey, New Hampshire, Massachusetts and Vermont also reported fires.

NEW HEARING AID
DEVELOPMENT TO BE DEMONSTRATED FOR FIRST TIME

A new development for the hard of hearing will be demonstrated by Mr. Philip W. DeHart on Friday, October 24, from 2 to 8 P. M., at the Hotel Eberhart. Mr. DeHart has been specially selected and trained by ACOUSTICON, the world's first and oldest manufacturer of electrical hearing aids.

This new hearing instrument presents so many of the very things the hard-of-hearing have long been seeking. It's a tiny instrument, so small it barely covers the palm with its batteries enclosed — making it convenient to carry. It's light, slim and beautiful — making it attractive to wear. It offers an etched clarity of tone that's hard to im-

TAFT PASSES UP
WISCONSIN TEST

Washington, Oct. 22 (AP)—Senator Taft (R-Ohio) was reported today to have decided to pass up the Wisconsin presidential preference primary.

Thus the first major battle of the GOP pre-nomination campaign likely will be fought there among Gov. Thomas E. Dewey of New York, Harold E. Stassen, Gen. Douglas MacArthur and possibly Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower.

With Wisconsin law permitting any candidate's name to be entered in the preference primary, with or without his consent, politicians generally agree that MacArthur's friends will battle for a share of the state's 27 delegates to the Philadelphia National convention.

The April 6 date for the primary may find MacArthur back in this country from his tour of duty in Japan. Any homecoming celebrations at that time are likely to freshen

DR. SEMPLE DIES

Thiessville, Pa., Oct. 22 (AP)—The Rev. Dr. Samuel Semple, pastor of the First Presbyterian church here for 30 years prior to his retirement in 1929, died yesterday at the age of 80. He was a member of the board at Wilson college, Chambersburg;

ing of the dangerous conditions in the state woods from the dry weather, said today "one rip-snorting fire" could wipe thousands of acres of forests.

"All we can do is to ask everybody that doesn't have any business in the woods to stay away until the danger period is over," declared H. B. Rowland, chief of the department's forest protection division. "This is no time for fun or play in the woods."

Battle Small Blazes

State Forest Fire wardens were battling small blazes in a dozen places over the state, Rowland said, with none of them considered "dangerous" at this time by wardens. Only one to 50 acres were burned over in any of the fires.

"Some of them may take days to extinguish because they are burning down into the ground and the only way you can get at them is to go in with a bull-dozer or a plow and tear it out," he continued.

Rowland explained the continued drought has resulted in the drying of the root mass underneath the surface so that when any fire begins, "it burns under there like punk and smolders deep in the ground for days."

Biggest fires since the protracted drought began—most sections of the state have been without rain for nearly four weeks—have been a 400-acre blaze in Wyoming county and a 300-acre fire in Clinton county.

So far this year, Rowland said, 30,000 acres have been destroyed compared with averages up to 100,000 acres in prior years.

Decision Today On
Poultry On Thursdays

Washington, Oct. 22 (AP)—The citizens food committee decides today whether to call off poultryless Thursdays.

Chairman Charles Luckman assembled his seven-member executive committee for an afternoon meeting to weigh a "final offer" from the poultry and feed industries to save grain for Europe in other ways.

Luckman himself was reported leaning toward the plan but committee officials said the decision would be left to the executive body.

The proposal pledges specific savings of 16,800,000 bushels of grain from November through January by culling poultry flocks and reducing the number of chicks hatched. It forecasts another 16,000,000 bushels saving through an industry-wide feed conservation drive.

The plan has been presented to President Truman's cabinet food committee for "appraisal and analysis," but poultry and feed industry spokesmen left town today saying they had "received no assurances whatsoever."

Chocolate melted with a few drops of water is smoother.

Wisconsin voters' recollections of the general's long war record and his current administration of occupation forces in the former enemy country.

MacArthur has been something of a favorite in Wisconsin since 1944. That is the year Wendell L. Wilkie withdrew from the Republican presidential nomination race after failing to win a single delegate in the primary after stumping the state.

CHILE FOLLOWS BRAZIL IN BREAK WITH RUSSIANS

Santiago, Chile, Oct. 22 (P)—Chile, planning Communists for a recent strike was aligned with Brazil today in a diplomatic break with the Soviet Union.

The Chilean government said last night it had severed diplomatic and consular relations with Russia and with Czechoslovakia as well because of "insurgencies of international Communists" and "to have disturbed the public order of Chile."

The Brazilian foreign ministry announced earlier in Rio de Janeiro that Brazil had cut diplomatic ties with the Soviet government because of what it called "outrageous and even calumnious" Russian press criticism of Brazil's President Eurico Gaspar Dutra and her army.

Both countries have maintained diplomatic relations with Russia since 1945. Chile's Communists organize unions of coal, copper and nitrate miners.

NEW HEARING AID DEVELOPMENT TO BE DEMONSTRATED FOR FIRST TIME

A new development for the hard of hearing will be demonstrated by Mr. Philip W. DeHart on Friday, October 24, from 2 to 8 P. M., at the Hotel Eberhart. Mr. DeHart has been specially selected and trained by ACOUSTICON, the world's first and oldest manufacturer of electrical hearing aids.

This new hearing instrument presents so many of the very things the hard-of-hearing have long been seeking. It's a tiny instrument, so small it barely covers the palm with its batteries enclosed — making it convenient to carry. It's light, slim and beautiful — making it attractive to wear. It offers an unheard-of clarity of tone that's hard to imagine because it picks up even a whisper yet fades background noises as if smothered by a velvet blanket. The makers of this new development say this new Acousticon hearing aid has gathered its oracle command from users all over the country. These people have written of the unusually clear hearing they've acquired since wearing the new Acousticon.

All hard-of-hearing are urged to attend this FREE HEARING CLINIC at the Hotel Eberhart. Those who find it impossible to come should write to Mr. Philip W. DeHart, 18 N. 3rd Street, Harrisburg, Pa., for complete free information.

200 BUILDINGS LOST IN MAINE FOREST FIRES

Goose Rocks Beach, Me., Oct. 22 (P)—A recurring forest fire consumed a most 200 buildings along a five-mile stretch of picturesque Maine coastline before it was brought under control early today.

Most of the razed structures were summer cottages but there were scores of homeless families in the Goose Rocks Cape Porpoise and White's district of Kennebunkport.

Kennebunkport, village, with 2,000 residents, was spared, a dominating wind and effective backing steam in the distance of the fire—the most serious of 40 burning in Maine's long-forevered forestlands.

Firemen reported early today that the blaze which swept the Cape Porpoise section was still burning along a 15-mile front.

Farmers in the path of the flames, moved livestock, and carried household equipment into the village of Kennebunkport for storage in garages and other business establishments.

A number of farm families also are quartered for the night in local places in the village.

5,000 Fight Flames

At least 5,000 firefighters and volunteers tried to keep the flames from racing into the village.

When nearly another hundred homes and cottages lost in other parts of the state, Forest Commissioner Raymond Merrill estimated the loss at more than $1,000,000.

Kennebunkport is the site of a large summer colony of artists and writers.

ing of the dangerous conditions in the state woods from the dry weather, said today: "One rip-snorting fire" could wipe thousands of acres of forests.

All we can do is to ask everybody "But doesn't have any business in the woods to stay away until the danger period is over," declared H. B. Rowland, chief of the department's forest protection division. "This is no time for fun or play in the woods."

Battle Small Blazes

State Forest Fire wardens were battling small blazes in a dozen places over the state, Rowland said, with none of them considered "dangerous" at this time by wardens. Only one to 50 acres were burned in any of the fires.

Some of them may take days to extinguish because they are burning down into the ground and the only way you can get at them is to go in with a bull-dozer or a plow and tear 'em out," he continued.

Rowland explained the continued drought has resulted in the drying of the root mass underneath the surface so that when any fire begins, it burns under there like punk at a smoulders deep in the ground for days.

Greatest fires since the protracted drought began—most sections of the state have been without rain for nearly four weeks—have been a 400-acre blaze in Wyoming county and a 300-acre fire in Clinton county.

So far this year, Rowland said, 30,000 acres have been destroyed compared with averages up to 100,000 acres in prior years.

Titusville, Pa., Oct. 22 (P)—The Rev. Dr. Samuel Semple pastor of the First Presbyterian church here for 30 years prior to his retirement in 1929, died yesterday at the age of 86. He was a member of the board of Wilson college, Chambersburg.

TAFT PASSES UP WISCONSIN TEST

Washington, Oct. 22 (P)—Senator Taft (R-Ohio) was reported today to have decided to pass up the Wisconsin presidential preference primary.

Thus the first major battle of the GOP pre-nomination campaign likely will be fought there among Gov. Thomas E. Dewey of New York, Harold E. Stassen, Gen. Douglas MacArthur and possibly Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower.

With Wisconsin law permitting any candidate's name to be entered in the preference primary, with or without his consent, politicians generally agree that MacArthur's friends will battle for a share of the state's 27 delegates to the Philadelphia National convention.

The April 6 date for the primary may find MacArthur back in this country from his tour of duty in Japan. Any homecoming celebrations at that time are likely to freshen Western Theological seminary, of Pittsburgh, and Grove City college, and had served as moderator of the church.

MacArthur has been something of a favorite in Wisconsin since 1944. That is the year Wendell L. Willkie withdrew from the Republican presidential nomination race after failing to win a single delegate in the primary after trouncing the state country.

Decision Today On Poultry On Thursdays

Washington, Oct. 22 (P)—The citizens food committee decides today whether to call off poultryless Thursday.

Chairman Charles Luckman assembled his seven-member executive committee for an afternoon meeting to weigh a "final offer" from the poultry and feed industries to save grain for Europe in other ways.

Luckman himself was reported leaning toward the plan but committee officials said the decision would be left to the executive body.

The proposal pledges specific savings of 16,800,000 bushels of grain from November through January by culling poultry flocks and reducing the number of chicks hatched. It forecasts another 16,000,000 bushel saving through an industry-wide feed conservation drive.

The plan has been presented to President Truman's cabinet food committee for appraisal and analysis but poultry and feed industry spokesmen left town today saying they had received no assurances that they would be accepted.
